On Parole.

Mr. S. B. Jennings who went to prison for five years, for killing Mate Miller, has been paroled after serving 14 months. He has many friends and relatives, who hope that his conduct will be that of a good citizen.

Teachers.

Miss Jennie Higgins, County Superintendent, has information, from the State School Superintendent, that the money for teachers will not be ready next pay day, Saturday, because taxes are slow coming in.

Had Lost Hope.

L. G. Botkin, Paris, Ky., says: "I had no hopes of saving my hogs, as some of them could not eat. I drenched them with Bourbon Hog Cholera Remedy and did not lose a hog. Sold by J. L. Mount & Co., Lancaster, Ky.

Opera House.

A meeting of the Stockholders of the Lancaster Opera House Company, is called for Friday, November 13, at 7 o'clock P.M., in the Directors room of The Garrard Bank and Trust Company. Every one must attend this meeting as matters of great importance are to be brought before them.

Sales.

Joe S. Haselden has sold the property bought of Henry Duncan, on Richmond street, to his brother, S. G. Haselden, and he has bought a half interest in the undertaking business of J. A. Beale on Danville street. Their office will be with their insurance, at the National Bank. Joe is a hustler and we predict abundant success for him.

The Alpha.

Mr. W. G. Anderson showed us a copy of this paper, published in 1877, in this city, by Mr. A. B. Ekin. It is a newy little sheet and contains much that would be interesting to many of our citizens; one item stating that the members of the Christian church subscribed $1,600, one Sunday, to pay some debts; and B. F. Hudson, Principal of the Main Academy, advertises that those who are not able to pay tuition, will be taught gratuitously.

Circuit court one week from next Monday, November 23rd.

A Democratic committee, for Garrard county will be elected Saturday November 21.

The Ladies Aid Society, of the Christian church, will meet with Mrs. T. W. West on Saturday at 2:30 P.M.

Today is the last day for paying the sum required to enter the primary election to be held on 28th.

Miss Fannie Henry, of El Dorado, Ark., sent her mother, Mrs. S. B. Henry, a curiosity in the way of a per simmon, it being 34 inches in diameter and weighing 12 ounces.

Light.

We were only in darkness three nights. A rain fell after we noted the shutting down of the electric plant, and Mayor Logan, chief of Police Illoren, and the city council said: "Let there be light," and it came on Wednesday. Our citizens are delighted and they now know the value of our light plant.

Fires.

The residence of Mr. Andrew Bogie, of Buckeye, burned Sunday morning at 11:30. Church, which was in session nearby, adjourned and held service was nearly all saved. $600 insurance with Beasley & Haselden. Loss about $1,000.

Frank Ross' residence on Danville pike burned Tuesday. Total loss, no insurance.

Education.

The next time of meeting has been set by the School Improvement League for the last day of the month, Monday, Nov. 30th. The public is cordially invited to this meeting, as it is hoped to institute a measure in which every man and woman in Lancaster will be interested. The men are urged to attend and pay their dues and take immediate action on a matter of importance.

See Death.

The news of the death of Mrs. J. R. Harris, at Stanford, on Tuesday afternoon, was received with feelings of regret and sorrow by all those who had had the good fortune to meet her. She was about thirty years old and was Miss Mary Cash, of Lincoln county. She was married about ten years ago to Mr. J. Randolph Harris, of this city, son of Judge and Mrs. E. W. Harris, who has lived in Stanford since the marriage. Funeral services were held at the residence, in Stanford on Thursday, and the body was buried in Stanford cemetery, in the presence of many relatives and friends. She leaves a daughter, age 8 years, and the people tender sincere condolence to her and her father.

Kind Words.

The following is from the Louisville Times of Oct. 29: Louis Landram, publisher of the CENTRAL RECORD at Lancaster, sold the plant to F. S. Hughes, at a good figure. Mr. Landram has in view newspaper work at another point. A newspaper man from start to finish, it is with genuine regret that we learn of this change in the record which Mr. Landram has seen fit to make. No matter where he pitches his tent the hearts of the Kentucky Press and especially the Eighth District Publishers' League, of which he is a charter member, will follow him with the same warm feelings of love and esteem that his delightful personality and brilliancy of mind has so long inspired in them.

The sale of the Lancaster Record which was sold to Henry Bastin last week failed to go through and the newspaper was put up at auction this week and was purchased by Saufley Hughes, of Lancaster, for $4,500. Mr. Hughes is a brother of the prominent Louisville newspaper man, Robert E. Hughes, and is said to be a hustler. Editor Landram, who is one of the most popular editors in the State already has a number of splendid offers and will likely go into larger journalism.—Danville Advocate.

We regret very much to learn that our good friend, Louis Landram has severed his connection with the Lancaster Record, which was one of the best edited and cleanest sheets in the state. Mr. Landram is a whole-soul fellow and can claim many warm friends and especially so among the newspaper fraternity. We sincerely hope that whatever business he may engage in, that success will crown his efforts.—Mt. Vernon Signal.

Louis Landram, the pet of the Kentucky press, has sold the Lancaster Record to Mr. F. S. Hughes. In welcoming Mr. Hughes to a high place in the profession we are glad to at the same time know that Mr. Landram will not only continue in Kentucky journalism, but will remain in the 8th District League. In fact, we can not well spare Louis.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

The U. D. C. met for the election of officers on Monday afternoon of this week. The officers are as follows: Mrs. Martha Frisbie, President; Mrs. S. D. Cochran, 1st Vice President; Mrs. Rebecca West, Honorary Vice President; Mrs. James Royston Treasurer; Mrs. Ed Gaines, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Alex Doty, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. B. F. Hudson, Historian; Mrs. Fannie Farris, Chaplain.

For Clerk.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the announcement of Mr. W. B. Mason, for Circuit Court Clerk, subject to the Democratic primary on November 28th. He served in that office, as deputy for several years and as clerk for many years, making in all 35 years. It is conceded, by the Bench, the Bar and the people generally that there is not a better qualified man, for the position in the entire country.

Derkend Dry.

Our water supply was cut off last Saturday, by order of Mayor Logan, as the water in the lake was getting low and it was necessary to have fire protection. So, many people are hauling water and as the moon wanes we will be in darkness. This will teach us to appreciate blessings while we enjoy them. Our water supply will always be equal to any ordinary condition, but it must be remembered that this is the worst drought in the history of Kentucky, and more loss and suffering has resulted from it.

Notices.

The democrats of each precinct, in Garrard county, will meet at their respective voting places, on Saturday November 21st, 1908, at 2 o'clock p.m., standard time, and elect a committeeman to serve until his successor is elected. On the following Monday the nine committeemen thus elected will meet at the Court House in Lancaster, and organize and elect a chairman and secretary to serve as provided by law.

Obituary.

Mr. James A. Bratton, age 61 years, died at the home of his son, R. G. Bratton, on Saturday morning, of heart trouble. Funeral services were conducted at Lancaster cemetery, on Sunday at 2 p.m., by Rev. C. C. Brown, of the Presbyterian church.

He was a Confederate Veteran and a worthy, affable gentleman. A large crowd of friends and relatives witnessed the burial, which was conducted by the Confederate Veterans, the department having attended the burial of many comrades, and thus showed his allegiance to the cause to which he had given some of his best years. He had many noble traits of character, and he was a man of courage and determination, though he was not able to rally from his last attack of nervous trouble. He leaves two sons, R. G. and J. A. Bratton, who are well and favorably known in this county, and Mrs. Susie McElhaney, an estimable lady, of Louisville, whose friends condole with them in their great bereavement.

He is further resolved:

Lancaster, Ky., November 13, 1908.

Missouri was settled by Kentuckians, and we will have to go over there and lecture them for going for Taft.

American Tobacco Stock dropped thirty-two points on account of the Federal decision to the effect that it is a trust in restraint of trade. The farmer is at the bat now.

The supreme court of the United States has decided that only one race can be taught at Berea. It sustains our court of appeals, which upheld the law against mixed schools.

Senator elect, W. O. Bradley and the republican Congressmen of this state, have formed a trust to dash out the Federal pie. Wilson carried the state last year and Bryan this year, so it looks like they ought to be consulted.

The Republicans said that the prospects of electing a Democrat as President caused the panic, when everybody knows that stock dealing brought it on, and we are not so sure that it was not done as a rebuke to Roosevelt for fighting the fatigued corporations.

More restrictions on foreign immigration are necessary to preserve our institutions. Otherwise we will fall a victim to the combined powers. This is inevitable although some think that we are invincible. Another doctrine and practice, which concentrates the wealth of our nation, and impoverishes the masses, is Protective tariff, a republican doctrine.

We heartily concur in the movement inaugurated at Danville, looking to the location of W. J. Bryan in that city, in order to send him to the U. S. Senate; but a Republican suggests that Roosevelt be induced to come to Lancaster and lecture, in our School, on Political Economy. This will do if he will tell his students all about Campaign contributions. Let us know Doctor.

"Better times will come from natural causes and not on account of any party. The genial sunshine, the refreshing shower and the fertile soil are the principle causes of prosperity. Virtuous legislation may produce close times, but good will follow as sure as light follows darkness. The drought, the panic and disturbances over tobacco are passing away and a period of prosperity will follow."

On Monday afternoon former Senator, E. W. Carmack, editor of the Nashville Tennessean, was shot and killed, in Nashville Tennessee by Robin Cooper, who claimed that his father had been the subject of ridicule through Carmack's paper. The whole trouble grew out of the gubernatorial primary in which Carmack was defeated, and it shows how far men can be led by political envy and prejudice. Both parties are prominent and great excitement resulted from the tragedy.

Democrats find much comfort in the fact that, notwithstanding the nation went republican, several states elected Democratic Governors and other officials although the state went for Taft. One sweetly consoling and highly gratifying thought, to Kentucky Democrats, is the fact that the state is redeemed, and the party, being fully united, will elect any man it may nominate in the future. Other states will return to their first love and the principles of eternal justice will yet prevail.

Gov. Johnson has carried Minnesota for Governor three times in succession in face of a normal majority of 100,000 Republican. There must be something unusual in a man who can do that. At any rate, he already looks up as a man to lead Democracy out of the wilderness four years hence. Johnson for President and either Harmon, of Ohio, or Marshall, of Indiana, for Vice President looks mighty good now and will likely look better as the days go by.—Kentucky State Journal.

This sounds all right until you put them up in a national race where, if they win, they might have something to say about reducing the tariff or recommending changes in money; and then those who have made millions out of protective tariff will contribute enough to a campaign fund to defeat all who oppose special privileges. Yet we will try to win next time.

Boost the Booster!

That's the official slogan of a certain town in Arkansas which through boosting itself and boosting its boosters has doubled its population since the 1900 census.

BOOST THE BOOSTER!

The Arkansas town had been quarreling among itself for years, and standing still. It had boosters, but it had others who refused to boost the boosters, refused to stand by them and yell, "Good boy—keep it up!"

BOOST THE BOOSTER!

Finally the town got together with itself, organized a "Boost the Booster Club" and began to boom. Now its principal thoroughfare, which was a streak of mud, is a stretch of asphalt, and it has new buildings to match. Now everybody boosts the booster and booms the boom.

BOOST THE BOOSTER!

This town might take a hint from that one. We have our town boosters—every town has some. But sometimes they get discouraged because of opposition right here in our midst.

BOOST THE BOOSTER!

Cut out the criticism! Quit the queering! Boom the Boom!

Then watch the old town perk up and plunge forward. You can see it move.

WHEN YOU BOOST THE BOOSTER YOU BOOM THE BOOM.

WONDERS

Of New York City, The Town of Millions.

Over 250,000 people work at night. Coney Island is sometimes visited by 500,000 people a day.

A child is born every four minutes, and a death occurs every seven minutes.

In 1885 New York had only twenty-eight millionaires. Now it has over 2,000.

About 45,000 marriages are solemnized every year—one in every eleven minutes.

The principal government gives, yearly, $50 to each blind person, and it has done so for years.

There are over 3,000 miles of paved streets, which are cleaned the year round by 2,000 laborers.

It is the greatest publishing center on earth. Over 35,000 people find employment as printers and press operators.

The transient hotel population is figured at 250,000 people a day. The hotel properties are valued at over $90,000,000.

It requires about 15,000 tons of coal to supply New York. About 11,000,000 tons are used to make steam and electricity.

Over 200,000 telephones are required for the "hello" system. They are operated by 8,500 employees, who an average 3,000,000 calls a day.

The private art gallery of J. Pierpont Morgan is the finest in the world. The building cost $1,000,000 and the art treasures are worth six times that amount.

The underground, elevated, and surface railways represent a total of $20,000,000 and carry 4,000,000 passengers a day. The city has nearly 2,000,000 in subways.

The population is now 4,800,000. London's population is 500,000 more, but New York is growing seven times as fast as the British metropolis, and should become the largest city in the world inside of ten years. Books Make Desirable Christmas Gifts.

Provided The Giver Has Judgment

"If you are in doubt about a Christmas gift, choose a book." This is admirable advice—provided the buyer is a fit subject to let loose in a bookstore. Each Christmas I invariably receive books from two friends. One of them sends volumes which make vivid spots in my library shelves; she runs to blushing of gorgeous scarlet, blue or green. Her choice is either a stupid novel, driveling poetry, or some idiotically languid philosophy. Each volume contains an elaborate inscription, which quite precludes its exchange at the book-store. Last Christmas, from my other book loving friend, came what I had long wanted, a volume of quotations. During former years she had discovered such wants as a work on dietetics, a rhyming dictionary and a volume of synonyms, to which I refer every day. Inside each book, with a card that wishes a Merry Christmas, is a line telling where the book was purchased and that it may be exchanged if desired. Only—none of her books are of the kind I want to exchange!—The December Designer.

George D. Robinson bought 110 head of sheep at 3c to 3½c.

W. H. Burton sold eight fat mules, 4 to 6 years old, to B. M. Edwards, of Mississippi, for $102.50 per head.

Look over your buildings and if they need repairing get busy at once. Delay in this matter may cause you a lot of trouble later on.

We hear that J. H. Curtis, of Madison county, bought Knock Creek's farm, of 98 acres, seven miles from town, at $60 per acre.

Sheep require pure water and will rarely drink that which is impure. In this respect they are more delicate than any other domestic animal.

W. G. Shropshire, of Worcester, bought of W. H. Burton, his show mare, Ada Bell, for $850 and his walk-trot mare, Lucite, for $250. He also bought a saddle horse from Dave Rose for $225.

The three days sale of the McGrathian horse sale at Lexington amounted to $74,010 for 361 head, an average of $205. O. F. Troutman was among the Jessamine purchasers.

Squirrels are reported as storing much food in Garrard Co., so it is going to be a cold winter. An old hunter near Sugar Creek took more than a peck of corn and nuts from a hollow tree he cut down recently.

Sweep down the walls to remove all accumulations of dirt and give your hen house a good liberal treatment of whitewash, see that the wash penetrates every crack or crevice wherelice may be hiding and disease germs may possibly be lurking.

Curtis Skidmore, of Powell county, put five acres in tomatoes; he sold 1,612 bushels at 25c per bushel to the cannery, realizing $80.00 per acre, besides losing about 500 bushels by premature frost, and the vines make his ground better each year.

Beauty is a good thing in a horse and a woman but a very poor thing in a hulk and a jock. Families of cattle are valuable for the merit they possess to-day. They are not valuable for merit their ancestors possessed fifty years ago, writes a correspondent in Bradbury's Gazette.

Eighty-two head of Angus cattle sold in Chicago at an average of $200 per head. The highest priced female was imported Black Empress of Aberdeen, with heifer calf at foot. She brought $500. The top price for hulk was $400, which was the price for the 3-year-old Blackbird bull, Woodland Black Ito, by Prince Ito.

Clover hay cut fine, cooked and steamed in boiling water, makes an excellent change of food for broadsows, or for cows that have recently calved. It is also excellent for young stock of all kinds; if slightly seasoned with salt and a small quantity of bran and cornmeal added to it, will provide nearly a complete food.—Home and Farm.

The sale of Mr. James Burnside last Wednesday was well attended. Every thing sold unusually well. Corn bringing $3 and $3.10 per barrel. Mr. and Mrs. Burnside will move to Richmond, Mrs. Burnside having already gone. They are one of the best known families in the county and it is with regret we give them up. Mr. Burnside has lived here all of his life and is one of the most influential farmers of this vicinity.

James B. Beazley won the big stake at the Columbia, S. C., fair with his great combined mare, Sweet Marie. She defeated a big field of good ones.

He also won a big stake with his stallion, Joe Brown. He later swapped Joe Brown for two magnificent show horses. Mr. B. is showing his string at the Spartanburg, S. C., fair this week.—Interior Journal.

More than 100,000 ears of corn will be exhibited in Omaha, Neb., at the corn exposition in December for the world's prizes. The highest prize which will be won on corn will be $1,000 in cash for the best ten ears of corn in the world, and with this will go the champion premier trophy offered by the Mexican government for the world's best ten ears of corn.

This trophy is a reproduction of a famous statue of an Aztec chief and worth $1,000.

The combined receipts of live stock at six principal live stock markets for the year, 1908 up to close of October were 6,831,000 cattle, 16,622,000 hogs and 7,788,000 sheep. During the corresponding period of last year the seven market received 7,714,000 cattle, 14,956,000 hogs and 7,916,000 sheep.

It will be seen from these figures that the receipts of hogs at these markets increased this year over last year by 1,866,000, while the receipts of cattle decreased 128,000.—Home & Farm.

Considered in almost every sense, fall fresh cows will make more money for the farmer than spring fresh. The yield of milk is considerably greater, and the value of the calf is increased. This, of course, depends on the preparations that are made for winter dairying. Creamery report shows that fall fresh herds pay larger returns because the bulk of the product is sold when butter fat brings the greatest price.—Taylor County Courier.

The Portland Oregonian says: "From standing grain in the field to well baked bread biscuits in two minutes was the record made in converting the raw material into the manufactured product at Waukesha, Wash., a few days ago. This is said to beat the previous record held by a Minneapolis mill, of twenty-nine minutes. The Minneapolis record was several years ago, and might be improved on at this time, but until the Minnesota farmers begin using combined harvesters and other up to date machinery such as has made the Pacific Northwest famous, the record will remain on this side of the Rocky Mountains."

Hen lay well in summer because the good it has done her, and I hope other mothers who have weak, delicate or ailing children will be benefited by my experience and just give Vinol a trial."

"Just the thing," said I, "for my little daughter," and I immediately went for a bottle of Vinol. It helped her wonderfully. She has gained rapidly in flesh and strength, and she does not take cold half so easily.

"I am extremely grateful for the good it has done her, and I hope other mothers who have weak, delicate or ailing children will be benefited by my experience and just give Vinol a trial."

Hen lay well in summer because they exercise, have a variety of green food and also worms and seeds. Make the winter conditions as much like summer as possible and the results will be a full egg basket. To be sure it is impossible to supply worms and green food in winter, but cabbage and turnips may be put away for winter use and cut clover may be fed two or three times a week, sealed with a mess of chopped meat. Then scatter grain freely in the scratching shed that they may have plenty of exercise. No matter how much a bird eats, if it exercises sufficiently, it will not grow too fat; so keep the hens at work.

How to Cure a Cold.

He as careful as you can you will be occasionally take cold, and when you do, get a medicine of known reliability, and that is certain to effect a quick cure. Such a medicine is Chamberlain's Cold Remedy. It has gained a world wide reputation by its remarkable cures of this most common ailment, and can always be depended upon. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. During the many years in which it has been in general use we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cold Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by F. V. Fribble, Inc.
